

Do you want to be a better advocate
for your child
with a disability?

 VANDERBILT KENNEDY CENTER VANDERBILT CONSORTIUM LEND

Sat. November 2, 2019
9 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.
Johnson City, TN

This FREE event will help you become a better advocate for a child with an intellectual or developmental disability (IDD). Experts in the field of IDD will speak about a variety of topics, including autism, intellectual disability, attention-deficit/hyperactivity disorder (ADHD), cerebral palsy, and learning disabilities. Each topic will be followed by a question-and-answer session. You will also learn about local resources and organizations dedicated to helping those with IDD.

Please arrive between 8:30 and 8:45 for sign-in. Breakfast and lunch will be served.

Course Director:

Evon Batey Lee, Ph.D.

Director, Vanderbilt Consortium LEND

Location:

The Millennium Centre

2001 Millennium Place

Johnson City, TN 37604

Free parking available

Register by October 25 at:

vkc.vumc.org/events/6392

For more information, contact:

tara.j.minor@vumc.org

This course is brought to you by the Vanderbilt Consortium Leadership Education in Neurodevelopmental Disabilities (LEND) Program in collaboration with Vanderbilt University School of Medicine, Department of Pediatrics, Center for Child Development and East Tennessee State University

This program is supported by the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) of the U.S. Dept. of Health and Human Services (HHS) under Grant No. T73MC30767. This information or content and conclusions are those of the course director and should not be construed as the official position or policy of, nor should any endorsements be inferred by HRSA, HHS or the U.S. Government.