

All-Access Inclusion Network

Some of the most prominent community organizations across Nashville and other cities are actively collaborating with TRIAD to increase access to programs through inclusive initiatives, engaging in trainings, increase accessibility, and inclusive employment opportunities for autistic people and people with other disabilities and their families.

This All-Access Inclusion Network (AAIN) led by the Vanderbilt Kennedy Center provides:

- Community Contact and Resources Directory
- Research-based supports focused on true inclusion
  - Inclusive/Sensory-Friendly Events
- Staff and Volunteer trainings/workshops

For more information about the network or how community organizations are increasing inclusion in the community, call (615) 875-4483 or email blaire.donnely-mason@vumc.org
