

PennState

VANDERBILT
Peabody College
Mood, Emotion, and Development Lab

Are you a mom of a 4- to 6-year-old child?

Researchers at Penn State University and Vanderbilt University are doing a study on how positive emotions and the brain develop to promote mental health in children

Who may be eligible?

4- to 6- year-old children and their mothers

What will we do?

- Parents will complete questions about moods and emotions at the start of the study and 1 and 2 years later
- Children will play computer games while brain activity is measured with a stretchy cap at the start of the study and 1 and 2 years later in person at Vanderbilt University

Financial compensation up to $360 will be provided

Interested?

Scan to complete our screening form or contact us to learn more

Call or Text: (615)450-6606

Email: medlabvanderbilt@gmail.com

Screening Form: <https://redcap.link/CAREscreeener>