

Who:

Study opportunity for typically developing children ages 3-5 years and one of their parents/caregivers

What:

Families attend a study visit at Vanderbilt. Families will participate in play sessions including music, story time and/or toy play. Caregivers complete surveys about their child.

Why:

Share a new and fun experience with your child and help us learn about how caregivers and children play together. Families are compensated for their time and participation.
